10,000 WITNESS CHILDREN CROWN MAY, THE QUEEN

COTTON PALACE PARK SCENE OF FESTIVAL IN WHICH 2000 PARTICIPATE.

FLAG DRILL IS FEATURE EXERCISES IN CHARGE OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS PROVIDE A BEAUTIFUL EXHIBIT.

Ten thousand papas, mamas, big brothers and sisters thronged Cotton Palace park yesterday afternoon to witness 2,000 of Waco's little folks participate in a May Day fete superintended by public school officials of the city and directed by Miss Pattie Cassey and Mr. E. P. Hunt with the cooperation of public school teachers.

Her Royal Highness Month May must have forgotten decades of previous coronation glory. Likewise, any fears she held for the loyalty of her subjects must have been forever dispelled. And when the Cotton Palace grand stand cheered the children again and again at the close of the exercises, everybody was certain that—

Spring is here.

The grand stand could accommodate but half the crowd and after the performance it took three-quarters of an hour for the street cars to handle traffic away from the park.

Opens with Flag Drill.

The fete opened with a flag drill, executed by 700 children. A line, costumed in red, alternated with one of white, marching in opposite directions to form a flag wave, while the flag field was composed of children dressed in blue holding overhead stars of white. All that remained to make the effect complete was "America" by the band. The Kaiser, himself, would have cheered the scene.

Then came the free-arm and physical culture exercises. Fifteen groups of children proved their careful preparation and made intricate folk dances and arm exercises one of the prettiest sights for which Cotton Palace park ever formed a background.

Sing "Texas the Great."

The choruses, composed of South Eighth and South Third street school children, sang "Welcome, Sweet Springtime," and "Texas the Great," accompanied by the high school orchestra.

Five May poles were wound and unwound with streamers of green and white, red and blue, pink and blue, gold and purple and red and orange as a concluding feature to a beautiful May Day such as Waco has never known before.

KEEP BUSINESS NORMAL, DECLARE WACO ROTARIANS

Encouraging the idea of "keeping business normal," the Waco Rotarians are mailing out to various parties a leaflet bearing on sane and normal business conduct just at this time, urging everybody to maintain a reasonable standard of living and expenditures. The idea is being carried out in many Texas cities.

MRS. VAWTER ON CROSS-EXAM NOT SHAKEN ON FACT

STICKS TO ORIGINAL STORY OF EPISODE WHICH ENDED LIFE OF HETH JR..

TELLS OF HIS ATTACK

REPEATS TO PROSECUTING ATTORNEYS DETAILS OF TRAGEDY AT HER HOME.

By Associated Press.

Christiansburg, Va., May 4.—The prosecution in the trial of Charles E. Vawter for the murder of Stockton Heth Jr. devoted itself largely today to efforts to prove that Vawter was sane when he wrote Heth asking that his whiskey bill be paid and telling him that he "now could love Mrs. Vawter with less fear." The defense rested early in the day after introducing witnesses to prove that Vawter was not drinking on the night of the shooting. The jury will be taken to Blacksburg tomorrow morning to go over the Vawter home, where the tragedy occurred on the morning of March 13.

Dr. J. A. Knoblin of Radford, in answer to a hypothetical question, said he considered Vawter sane when he wrote Heth, as did Dr. J. C. Dowman of East Radford. Dr. W. A. Wilson of Radford said the missive was written by a degenerate.

Dr. T. P. Campbell, dean of Virginia Polytechnic institute, where Vawter was an instructor in mathematics, who arrived at the Vawter home soon after the shooting, said Bernard Williams, the student lodger, had told him that Heth said:

Another Heth Statement.

"Bull, I tried to keep Vawter from shooting me. I tore the sleeve of his shirt trying to keep him from shooting me, but I could not."

Prof. Vawter was recalled for a few minutes this afternoon and said the college authorities had not complained of his lack of attention to duty, but he understood students had done so.

A. N. Keith, foreman on the Heth farm, testified that at the time Prof. Vawter took his son to Lynchburg for an operation, he overheard a conversation on the telephone between Vawter and Heth in which he said Vawter told Heth where he was going and that his wife was going to a friend's home in Roanoke and that he could find her there. Keith was mercilessly grilled for what the prosecution termed his "eavesdropping" on an extension telephone at the farm.

Testimony apparently was drawing to a close when court convened this morning. Mrs. Vawter, who yesterday bared her life in defense of her husband, had not completed her recital, but few witnesses were expected to follow her.

The outstanding features of Mrs. Vawter's testimony were that she acknowledged intimacies with Heth while under the influence of intoxicants; that she repelled him at other times, and that Vawter was aware of her acts and upbraided her. Heth had attacked her, she said, the night he was killed.

Mrs. Vawter's description of the tragedy in her home on the morning of March 13 was the dramatic climax of the trial.

"I was awakened by the sound of my child's coughing," she said, "and ran into the hall for medicine. I heard Heth call: 'Come in here; I want to talk to you.' I refused and he grasped me."

"Soon I heard Mr. Vawter moving about in his room and I ran toward the room of our children. I heard him strike a match. He went downstairs for his revolver and I followed, pleading with him to let me kill myself, but to no avail. Coming upstairs in the darkness, I felt him sway and heard him say, 'Turn me loose!' Then I heard Heth's voice saying 'I won't.' Shots followed and I found Heth lying on the floor. I told him it was my fault and he answered that it was all his. Then I went into the children's room and found Mr. Vawter talking to them."

Withstands Cross-examination.

Mrs. Vawter so far has resisted all efforts of Attorney J. L. Lee to break down her testimony.

When court convened today the defense presented two witnesses who testified they saw Vawter between 9:30 and 10:30 o'clock on the night of the shooting and that he was not drinking. With this testimony the defense rested. Mrs. Vawter was not recalled to the stand today for continued cross-examination, as had been expected. After a brief recess the state began the introduction of testimony in rebuttal.

ENTRY OF CHINA INTO WAR IS NOT VERY FAR DISTANT

Peking, May 4.—(Passed by Censors After Deliberations.)—The entry of China into the war at an early date seems inevitable.

President Li Yuan Hung and the senate are opposed to such a step, but the house of representatives, and the premier and the conference of military governors are urging war.

A dissolution of parliament is threatened if parliament fails to declare a state of hostilities. Owing to the great power exercised by the military party the senate probably will yield to the war party.

Hsu Ship Ying, minister of communication, has resigned.

PETROGRAD SAID TO BE IN THROES OF NEW REVOLT

SOLDIERS JOIN CIVILIANS IN DEMAND THAT NEW GOVERNMENT QUIT OFFICE.

BULLETINS ARE VAGUE

BELIEVED, HOWEVER, THEY INDICATE CRISIS AT HAND OR APPROACHING SOON.

By Associated Press.

Petrograd, May 4, via London, May 5, 6:44 a. m.—A clash between rival parties has occurred in the Nevsky prospect in which a number of shots were fired. An officer and a girl are reported killed and several persons wounded. The city is in a turmoil of excitement.

A series of demonstrations developed during the afternoon both for and against the government. Motor trucks crowded with soldiers and civilians traversed the streets in support of the provisional authorities. Detachments from both camps are appearing in increasing numbers and the agitation is increasing in intensity.

ATTACK GOVERNMENT.

By Associated Press.

Petrograd, May 4, via London, May 5, 3:03 a. m.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon many hundreds of factory workers—men, women and boys, preceded by double files of soldiers, marched down the Nevsky prospect with a banner inscribed "Away with the temporary government." Otherwise the city has been normal throughout the day, though the tenseness caused by the situation of yesterday still prevails.

DEMAND COMPROMISE.

By Associated Press.

Petrograd, May 3 (Delayed).—Although the sentiment of the workmen and soldiers council tonight apparently is against extreme measures unless they are absolutely necessary, every speaker at the meeting emphasized the contention that the power in Russia rests in the hands of the representatives of the workingmen and soldiers and that they are determined to enforce their views upon the temporary government or immediately dispossess it and construct a government of their own liking. Most of the leaders advocated that a compromise be obtainable by the removal of Professor Milukoff, the foreign minister.

WASHINGTON WORRIED.

Washington, May 4.—Disquieting reports from Petrograd of differences between the provisional government and committees of workmen and soldiers are causing concern here, but it was said after today's cabinet meeting that no official information had been received to shake the confidence felt here that the Russian democratic leaders will hold their organization together and keep up the fight against Germany.

POPULAR DISCONTENT SAID TO FACE BETHMANN HOLLWEG

By Associated Press.

London, May 4.—The Exchange Telegraph company's Amsterdam correspondent wires that, according to travelers from Germany, popular discontent because of the government's silence concerning Germany's war aims is forcing the German imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg soon to make a definite statement of his policy. The chancellor, it is stated, has been discussing the question with Emperor William and Talaat Pasha, premier of Turkey, while Count George F. Hertling, the Bavarian prime minister, discussed the subject with the Austro-Hungarian cabinet at Vienna.

HOLLWEG FACES DISSENSION ON POLICY OF SILENCE

By Associated Press.

Copenhagen, via London, May 4.—The silence of German Imperial Chancellor Von Bethmann Hollweg, concerning German aims, it is declared, is based on a desire to avoid disrupting the unity of feeling in the country by discussion of contentious questions and not as some uncharitable German critics assert, on the absence of a definite government policy has failed of its object.

An acrimonious controversy is now raging in Germany between the big annexationists, the little annexationists, and the advocates of no annexations and indemnities whatever.

The pan-German league has sent circulars to its branches throughout the country asking them to organize meetings everywhere in the interests of "German peace" and against the socialist peace program.

NEW OFFENSIVE NEAR RHEIMS IS LED BY FRENCH

WAR SUMMARY SHOWS THEY HAVE CAPTURED CRAONNE, PUSHING GERMANS BACK.

(War Summary, By Associated Press.)

French troops in a new offensive along the Aisne have captured the village of Craonne and the first German line on a front of two and one-half miles northwest of Rheims.

Craonne is at the eastern end of the Vauclerc plateau, the scene of much desperate fighting recently and its possession by the Germans placed a salient in the French line paralleling the Chemin Des Dames and the Aisne river. The French not only straightened out their line and gained a strategic position for a further advance on the Vauclerc plateau, but also took more than 150 prisoners.

Advancing northwest of Rheims on a front of two and a half miles the French carried the first German line and took six hundred prisoners. Craonne is six miles northwest of Berry Au Bac, which Berlin gives as the western extremity of the French attacking line northwest of Rheims. Berlin asserts that the French attack was repulsed between Berry Au Bac and Brimont, about six miles north of Rheims.

Attacks by British troops on the Arras front from east of Vimy south to Bullecourt have stopped for the moment, while Field Marshal Haig's soldiers strengthen the positions taken on Thursday. Both the British and Germans apparently have been worn out by continuous action and counter attacks of the last two days and the Associated Press correspondent with the British armies report that while the infantrymen rest, the artillery continue their bombardment.

From the other battle fronts come reports only of scouting and reconnoitering raids and artillery duels, except for a Russian attack in the Suchitza valley, Rumania, which Berlin says was repulsed.

The first group will be examined for promotion to the rank of lieutenant colonel, and the second group will be examined for promotion to the rank of major.

Coast Artillery.
In the coast artillery thirteen lieutenant colonels must be promoted to colonel, and the first 250 lieutenant colonels will be examined for promotion to the rank of major. The first 250 lieutenant colonels will be examined for promotion to the rank of major, and the second 250 lieutenant colonels will be examined for promotion to the rank of major.

National Guard Strength.
The full strength of the national guard units now existing will be 3447 officers and 329,564 men, giving a total regular and national guard force to be whipped into shape before the new army is called. The total of this first force will exceed 700,000 active troops, backed by about 250,000 more in the regimental recruit battalions.

In general, the plan will be to provide a regular army officer to command each new regiment, with an adequate number of regular or national guard officers of experience to carry on efficiently the administrative duties and to supervise instruction.

During the interval between the registration and the calling out of the new army, the regular and national guard divisions will be at work preparing the mobilization camps and with their own training. To them also will continue to fall the duty of protecting public and private property. The commander of each training district probably will direct this work under the orders of the commander of the military department in which his camp is situated.

U. S. RESOURCES AGAIN OUTLINED

FORM BASIS OF DISCUSSION AT CONFERENCE WITH BRITISH MISSION.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, May 4.—Direction of America's vast commercial resources in the common struggle against Germany formed the basis of the second formal conference between American officials and the British mission held today in Secretary Lansing's office at the state department.

Two general subjects were taken up, how best and most economically to marshal the resources for the aid of the allies and how most carefully to restrict all products getting through to the aid of the enemy.

The highest officials who will have to deal with these matters met in joint session to co-ordinate and discuss the results of their various individual conferences.

While no definite decisions were reached, the conferees went over such problems as trading with the enemy, export restrictions, the rationing of Holland and Scandinavia and the means of arriving at accurate statistics to show how much in different lines the allies need and how much this country can supply.

A 32-page Atlas and Encyclopaedia of the World War and Uncle Sam's part in it FREE with your News subscription.

How many people in Texas can answer the following questions concerning the war that is now upon us:
How many soldiers does Uncle Sam have in the regular army?
Who is the Secretary of War and Chief of the Army of the U. S.?
What battleship owned by the U. S. is the world's greatest sea fighter?
How large in area is Germany compared with the United States?
What new invention do we have to render the torpedo harmless?
Where in Europe are the greatest battles being fought?
How many men do the Germans have on the battlefields compared with the Allies?

Does anyone have an idea how many men have been killed since the war began two and a half years ago?

COULD SCARCELY WALK AT ALL

For One And One Half Years. Confined to Bed Most of This Time. Suffered Intense Pain.

Sheffield, Ala.—"About four years ago," says Mrs. J. T. Stonecipher, of this town, "I got in very bad health... became irregular, and I was pretty bad off for a year and a half... had difficulty and pain in walking—could scarcely walk at all. I got awfully thin and was confined to my bed most of the time for 14 years—could scarcely ever do any work, I suffered dreadfully, and I suffered intense pain in the right side.

We had in attendance first Dr. —, who pronounced my trouble —, and he wanted me to have an operation performed, but I could not bear the thought of submitting to such a thing. He gave me medicine which did me no good. I then had Dr. —, who gave me medicine which gave me no permanent relief.

My neighbors said how bad off I was and advised me to take Cardui. My husband was so worried about me that he went and called in Dr. —, of —. On his second call I told him... I had taken about a bottle of Cardui, which had been improving me a great deal. He said: 'Well, leave off my medicine and take the Cardui, it's a good medicine.' After the use of the second bottle I was cured and the cure was permanent."

Cardui should help you, too. Try it.

COURT INSTRUCTS JURY IN SPANELL TRIAL FRIDAY

By Associated Press.

Coleman, May 4.—Instructing the jury today in the case of Harry J. Spanell, on trial in connection with the killing of Lieutenant Colonel M. C. Butler at Alpine last July, Judge Woodward said that if the jury believed that Spanell with malice aforethought killed Butler he should be found guilty of murder and his punishment assessed at death or imprisonment for not less than five years. The court said that if the defendant was found guilty of manslaughter and it was found that he never had been convicted of any felony, the jury could cause sentence to be suspended during good behavior.

Discussing causes that may have been adequate to lead Spanell to shoot Butler, the court said the past conduct of the deceased toward Spanell's wife had to be considered, and also whether the defendant believed his wife to have been insulted. He added that reasonable apprehension of death or great bodily harm would excuse a party in using all necessary force to protect his life or person and the defendant was not bound in such case to retreat to avoid killing his assailant. This injunction related to testimony by Spanell that Butler attacked him and struck him on the head.

Judge Woodward said that if the jury found Spanell was suffering from a blow on the head and was not responsible for the nature of his act he should be found not guilty.

When the court finished his charge, arguments began. The four attorneys who will speak for each side will have a total of sixteen hours to speak. The case is expected to reach the jury late tomorrow.

Expectant Mothers Relieved of Pain

Women Use Prescription of Famous Physician.

Since the days of our first parents in the Garden of Eden, women have borne the pain and discomfort of childbirth. Science on its part, has worked to modify and to relieve in part, the dreadful suffering at such a time.

The preparation known as "Mother's Friend" is applied by the mother-to-be herself, externally, night and morning. It relieves the tension on the muscles, cords and ligaments of the abdomen, and the expectant mother is made much more comfortable. The crisis is one of much less pain and danger.

Thousands of women who have used it successfully state that they cannot say enough about the good "Mother's Friend" did for them and refer particularly to the absence of nausea or morning sickness.

Ask your husband to get you a bottle from the drug store. If you wish a valuable book for mothers, write the Bradfield Regulator Company, Dept. F. 240 Atlanta, Ga. It is free and will be sent at once.

"WRATH" AT HIPPODROME.

It is said that double exposure and the playing of a dual role tests a player before the camera as nothing else does, and those who can successfully pass this test are to be rated as true artists. Thus H. B. Warner must be classed, for in "Wrath," the fifth of the "Seven Deadly Sins," showing at the Hippodrome theatre today only, he plays both father and son with an effectiveness and sincerity that is distinctive and impressive. The Russian grand duke is the one whose anger plays havoc with the lives of many, including his own son, and Mr. Warner portrays this man, the embodiment of wrath, and also the honest, likeable son who refuses to carry the diabolical plays of his father. Shirley Mason and George Le Guere appear as the characters they have played throughout the series of stories. Eve Leslie and Adam Moore, and are concerned in the story in a very vital manner. Charles Wellesley, Theo Talbot and others make up a consistent and able cast.

WE ARE TO FIGHT AS DEMOCRATS.

THIS is about Smith and Jones.

Each is about 23 years of age and able-bodied.
Now let us suppose congress had been stupid enough to vote against compulsory service, so that we had been forced to raise an army by the volunteer system.

Smith enlists. Jones stays at home.
Smith goes into battle—for Jones. Jones sacrifices nothing.
Smith dies—for Jones. Jones lives to enjoy the victory of those principles for which Smith died.

And under a volunteer system there would have been thousands of Smiths called upon to make the supreme sacrifice for the millions of Joneses who stayed at home.

A volunteer military system is as unjust as a volunteer taxing system would be.

Our taxing system is, in fact, a conscription of property. The man crazy enough to suggest a volunteer taxing system has not yet appeared. We take it for granted that everybody should pay taxes and the reason is so obvious that nobody ever argues the point.

Military conscription is merely a fair tax on service.

It is not fair that courageous and patriotic young men should bear alone the burdens of sacrifice that their country asks of them.

It is not decent that the brave and the noble should fight the battles of the mean and the craven—no more decent than would be a volunteer taxing system that would leave to a few the support of government for many.

This is everybody's country—not merely the country of those who love it enough to die for it willingly.

Even if it were possible to raise an army by the volunteer system, it would not be just to send that army to fight and die for the country, while millions of more able-bodied young men stay behind to enjoy the victory which the brave and the true win with their blood.

That is unthinkable. We are proud of our equality. But equality means as much equality of duties as equality of rights. We are fighting for democracy, and we are to fight democratically.

When General Haig tries to advance three miles and only advances two that seems to be Berlin's idea of a "British defeat."

Berlin says the "Wotan Line" is impregnable. Better remove each "N."

SAVE OUR POWDER.

ALL the powder made in the United States is needed in the war against the kaiser. The News suggests that the city commission forbid the sale of fireworks in Waco for the celebration of Independence Day. Action should be taken now so that our merchants may be advised not to stock up for the trade.

THE JIHAD

By FR. FRANK CRANE.

CONSISTENCY has been nominated a jewel. And unanimously elected.

The present world sermimage is so full of paradoxes, contradictions, and anomalies, not to say hypocrites, that it is refreshing to find one of the contesting nations that is entirely consistent.

I refer to Turkey. She alone is practicing what she preaches. Other nations profess creeds of love and universal brotherhood while blasting one another to smithereens. The kaiser's friend God in His book said to overcome evil with good, to love one's enemies and the like, but the conduct of the kaiser's men in Belgium can hardly be said by anybody except a German professor to be carrying out this benevolent injunction.

Christianity may be all right, but Christendom is a joke. Never before the Christian era was there an example of a nation that worshipped a god and gloried in doing precisely the contrary to that god's commands. The heathen had at least the comfort of believing that while they hacked and hewed each other on the plains of Troy, their respective gods were biting and scratching likewise in the air. Above the Norse warriors of old their deities, Thor, Loki, and company, but just as lustily pounding away among themselves. But it is difficult for a mind outside of Bedlam to understand how the various army chaplains can exhort the soldiers to go at their Christian brethren and

Prove their doctrines orthodox

By apostolic blows and knocks.

Now with the Turks it is different. They have no molly-coddle deity that prates such absurd impracticalities as love. Allah is fond of raw meat. His fully name is probably T. R. Allah. He instructs his followers to go after infidels and whenever they see a head hit it.

Kick 'em, poison 'em, kill 'em. The more unbelievers you eliminate the greater will Allah reward you. And his reward is not such intangible benefits as a sense of duty done and a clear conscience. You will get "honor and glory, hours and damsels." This is something definite.

S. G. Wilson in a recent book, "Modern Movements Among Moslems," gives the text of the Jihad, or call to holy war, as issued to the Mohammedan peoples. Here are a few extracts:

"To the millions of Islam: 'God will punish them in your hand; ye will overcome them' (Koran). Oh, ye faithful, what do ye wait for? How often have the savage Russians, the traitorous English, the Frenchmen born of impure parentage, planted their unclean flags upon your holy mountains? Oh, ye helpless people of India, of the Oxus, of Tunis, and of the orphan isles, and you wretched tribes of Turkey. Ye have become slaves of the people of the cross. If you desire honor and glory, hours and damsels, behold all are in the grasp of your sword. Attack your enemies from every side. Whenever you meet them, kill them. Listen to the will of God, the desire of your prophet, the command of the caliph, that you give no rest to the enemy. If you have no arms, tear his throat with your teeth. Jihad! Jihad! Oh, Moslems. The great God is ordering you to fight everywhere. God will give you the victory. He gives you the hours and the damsels of heaven."

Sammy Finds Farmer Brown's Boy at Work.

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Sammy Jay had left the dear Old Brier Patch after telling Peter Rabbit and little Mrs. Peter that Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy had some babies and on this account were more dangerous than ever, and had flown straight over to warn Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse. Danny and Nanny had been just as grateful to Peter and Mrs. Peter. It made Sammy feel good. You know, it always makes one feel good to do a kind deed to others and have them grateful for it.

When Sammy left Danny and Nanny down on the Green Meadows he had in mind to fly over to the Green Forest and warn Whitefoot the Wood Mouse to keep his eyes extra wide open for Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy. As he flew along he saw something that for the time being quite put Whitefoot out of his head. It was Farmer Brown's Boy at work along the old stone wall on the edge of the Old Orchard. He was digging.

"That's funny," thought Sammy. "I wonder what he is digging for there. I wonder if he is trying to dig open somebody's house. I thought he had got over doing things like that, but you never can tell about these men folks. No, sir, you never can tell. They are queer creatures. They certainly are. I guess I'll go over to the Old Orchard and see what is going on."

So Sammy flew over to the Old Orchard without making a sound and found a place in an old apple tree where he could watch Farmer Brown's Boy. He found a number of other little people doing the same thing. In fact, all the little people of the Old Orchard were watching Farmer Brown's Boy. It didn't take Sammy long to discover that. Welcome Robin, Scrapper the Kingbird, Chippy the Sparrow, Jenny Wren, Tommy Tit the Chickadee, Drummer the Woodpecker, Goldie the Oriole—they were all sitting silent and watchful where they could see Farmer Brown's Boy at work. It was as silent in the Old Orchard save for Farmer Brown's Boy himself as if there were no living creatures there. Peeping out from between the stones of the old wall, Striped Chipmunk was watching just as his feathered friends were. There was a puzzled, and it seemed to Sammy a wee bit anxious, look in Striped Chipmunk's eyes.

"What is Farmer Brown's Boy doing?" he whispered.

Sammy flew over beside Welcome Robin. "What is Farmer Brown's Boy doing?" he whispered.

NEW YORK MEETING SCENE OF CLASH ON IRISH QUESTION

By Associated Press.
New York, May 4.—When the chairman of a mass meeting held tonight in Cooper Union by thirty-two organizations composed of Americans of Irish birth or descent, refused to receive a resolution calling upon President Wilson and congress to intercede in behalf of Irish independence, a riot broke out which resulted in the election of more than thirty persons from the hall and which was not quelled until 200 policemen made free use of their clubs. The trouble began at the close of a speech by former United States Senator James O'Gorman, when Richard F. Dalton, a young Long Island city lawyer, arose and addressed the chair.

LITTLE DISTURBANCE IN WEEK'S BUSINESS TONE

New York, May 4.—Dun's tomorrow will say: A month of readjustment to new conditions has brought little disturbance to business and only in relatively few instances are signs of special hesitation apparent. Lessening of ordinary demands has continued in some important branches, largely because of the extreme prices and backward weather has retarded retail distribution of seasonal merchandise in most sections of the country. Yet the growing crops reflect appreciable improvement, with winter wheat promising a more abundant harvest than recently seemed likely, and the betterment in the agricultural outlook means much in a year when big yields are more than ever needed. Conservatism is still a dominant note in reports from some of the principal centers, especially in the east but while regular transactions fall below the previous maximum, the extensive government requirements have a stimulating effect in many directions and manufacturing continues under high pressure. Bank clearings $5,954,759,620, increase 28.8 per cent over last year.

ADDITIONAL GOVERNMENT ORDERS CAUSE FIRMNESS

New York, May 4.—Additional government orders for cotton duck, drills for uniform cloths and marquisettes in lieu of mosquito netting were placed today. Yarns ruled firm with a good demand for combed, knitting and electrical wiring yarns. Wool markets were very firm and selections scarce.

WHEAT SHOWS NERVOUS TONE THROUGHOUT SESSION

Chicago, May 4.—After a whirlwind descent of 21c a bushel and an exciting rebound of 16 cents, the wheat market today continued to show great nervousness owing almost entirely to government moves at Washington and Ottawa to establish a joint control of prices. There was an unsettled finish at 3 3/4, 7 1/2 net decline, with May at $2.72 1/2, and $2.20 1/4. Corn closed 5 1/4c off, oats down 1 1/2c, and provisions showing setbacks of 15c to 20c.

BUTTER-POULTRY UNCHANGED EGGS AT 3 1-2, BUTTER FIRM

Kansas City, May 4.—Butter and poultry unchanged. Eggs, first 31 1/4c. Potatoes steady at $2.65.

POLITICAL NEWS WAS AN UNCERTAIN FACTOR

New Orleans, May 4.—Political news worked both for and against prices in the cotton market here today. Fluctuations were fairly wide, a decline of from 20 to 30 points around the opening being succeeded by an almost complete recovery. The market remained within a few points of the opening level during the better part of the remainder of the session, closing at a net decline of 5 to 9 points.

GOVERNOR SENDS THREE SUBJECTS TO LEGISLATURE

Special to The News.
Austin, May 4.—In a message sent to the legislature today the governor submits three new subjects for consideration. The message from the governor follows:

"At the request of Hon. R. L. Carroll, Hon. R. H. Holland, Hon. E. C. Walker and Hon. Harry V. Fisher, I hereby submit for your consideration a bill, hereto attached, being an act to amend Article 1156 of Chapter 2, of Title 15, of the Revised Code of Criminal Procedure of the state of Texas, relating to the holding of inquests.

"At the request of Hon. Louis H. Scholl and Hon. Leonard Tillotson, I also submit for your consideration a bill, hereto attached, being an act to provide for the protection of fish in the fresh waters of the state of Texas; providing for a closed season from February 15 to May 15 of any year, and prohibiting the catching or taking of trout, bass, cat fish, blue cat or mud cat, of less than six inches in length.

"I also desire to submit for your consideration a bill, hereto attached, being an act to amend Chapter 60, General Laws of the state of Texas passed by the thirty-fifth legislature at its regular session, being 'an act supplementing the creating a livestock sanitary commission for the state of Texas, as defined and described in Article, 7312, Revised Civil Statutes.'

SENATE.

Special to The News.
Austin, May 4.—The senate finance committee today reported the "full crew" bill favorably by a vote of 6 to 1. Senators Henderson voted against it and gave notice of a minority report. The senate committee gave an open hearing on this bill Thursday afternoon, and it was expected the hearing would be continued today, but instead of continuing the hearing the committee met and reported the bill out.

Appropriations for the state department of agriculture and of education were considered by the committee today, officials from each of these departments being heard. In both departments there will be extension work in Texas in conformity with a report to be made by a special committee appointed to consider extension work with a view to avoiding duplication and over-lapping. Other appropriations, however, will not suffer materially.

HOUSE.

Special to The News.
Austin, May 4.—The house today cut an item of $125,000 for a new dormitory at the Texas College of Industrial Arts out of the appropriation for that institution and also eliminated an item of $10,000 for a gymnasium. The committee had recommended a salary of $5500 for the president of the institution, being an increase from $3000, and an amendment was offered to cut this to $3500, which brought on a prolonged fight. In the end the amendment failed of adoption by a tie vote, 54 to 54. The fight against this salary for the president of the College of Industrial Arts has been, however, and those opposing it promise to continue it vigorously.

PROSPERITY IS NOT THE CAUSE OF WAR

—but war is the cause of prosperity, because ours is an agricultural country and everything that the farmer will have for sale will bring an abnormally high price. When the country is prosperous the cities are prosperous. This needs no argument. Then why should we need even hesitate in the carrying out of any plans that we may have had in mind towards the development of ourselves or our business?

There is absolutely no occasion for the backward feeling that some people are displaying in business matters in anticipation of the war. Aside from the fact that some of our boys will have to go to the front, this country will actually profit from a financial standpoint. The many billions that we will loan our allies will practically all be spent in this country. This means the employment of all of our labor and the consumption of all of our products.

This company has shown its belief in the city of Waco by taking a ten-year lease on the building we occupy, and we have indicated our belief in the citizenship of Waco by offering over our counters the HIGHEST QUALITY PAINTS and VARNISHES that can be obtained in America.

Believing as we do, and having the faith in the ability of the United States to not only wage war successfully, but also to feed and clothe the world, we expect to go on with business as usual and do all in our power to not merely keep business conditions normal, but push them ABOVE NORMAL in point of PROSPERITY.

HIGH PRICE IS REACHED IN SALE OF ANGORA GOATS

Goat raisers of McLennan county yesterday were interested in quotations from Fort Worth of $9 per hundred on Angora goats. Inquiry at the Brazos Packing company showed this to be a record price, even for Angora goats. It was stated that an Angora goat will weigh from 80 to 100 pounds, hence will bring at the price quoted, from $7.20 to $9, and even more in cases where goats are unusually large and heavy. "They are easy to raise," it was stated at the Brazos Packing company. "They can be put in pastures where there is brush and a little other green stuff and can be raised with little or no expense. One party who started raising goats a little less than three years ago, spending $1,000 for the first lot, has this year sold $3,000 worth, and now has more goats than when he began."

How I got them Crisp

(Report No. 7) By a waffle fiend

I travel quite a bit. I sometimes order waffles in hotels, but somehow they never come crisp enough. So the other day I got enterprising. I had a waffle iron sent home. "Now honey," said I, "Let's have some real waffles. I want you to make them yourself." I had heard that Cottolene made crisp cooking, so we agreed to use Cottolene. I hung around the kitchen and watched. After the sif-

ing and mixing, the Cottolene was added—a third less than our butter recipe called for. Some more finishing touches. Then my wife swabbed the waffle iron with Cottolene, poured in the batter and—Well, I never tasted waffles so delicious! They were a rich golden brown. And crisp! My, how crisp those waffles were! I never tasted waffles anywhere that were so crisp. We served them hot, with real Chautauqua County syrup. My wife had never made waffles before, but after that first batch, she might have qualified as waffle champion of the world. Or should the championship go to Cottolene? Perhaps you had better try it yourself and see. From H. T. H.
